No. 3345. — TREATY BETWEEN THE GERMAN REICH AND THE CZECHOSLOVAK REPUBLIC CONCERNING FRONTIER WATERWAYS AND THE EXCHANGE OF TERRITORIES IN THE PRUSSIAN SECTOR OF THE GERMAN-CZECHOSLOVAK FRONTIER. SIGNED AT BERLIN, JANUARY 31, 1930.

THE PRESIDENT OF THE CZECHOSLOVAK REPUBLIC and THE PRESIDENT OF THE GERMAN REICH have agreed to adopt certain provisions with regard to the position and movability of the Czechoslovak-German frontier along waterways in the Prussian sector, and in connection therewith to proceed to an exchange of territories.

For this purpose, they have appointed as their Plenipotentiaries :

THE PRESIDENT OF THE CZECHOSLOVAK REPUBLIC :

M. Václav ROUBÍK, Engineer, Czechoslovak Commissioner for Frontier Questions ;
and

THE PRESIDENT OF THE GERMAN REICH :

Dr. Paul ECKARDT, Minister Plenipotentiary ;

Who, having communicated their full powers, found in good and due form, have agreed on the following provisions :

A. PROVISIONS CONCERNING THE POSITION AND MOVABILITY OF THE CZECHOSLOVAK-GERMAN FRONTIER ALONG WATERWAYS IN THE PRUSSIAN SECTOR.

Article 1.

I. When the Czechoslovak-German frontier in the Prussian sector is situated in a waterway (frontier waterway) it shall be constituted by the median line of such waterway, or according to circumstances, by the median line of its principal arm. In determining the said median line, the principle to be applied shall be that the riverain population shall have access to the water at all levels through their national territory. The median line shall be held to be a level and continuous line at an equal distance from both banks of the waterway (principal arm). Should it not be possible exactly to determine the banks, the word "bank" shall for the purposes of the present provision be held to be the line formed along the waterway by permanent vegetation or other features. Should the existing features not suffice for such a line to be accurately fixed, the national frontier shall be constituted by the median line of the water surface at a low level as existing at the time when it is established in the waterway or, according to circumstances, in its principal arm. The principal arm shall be held to be the arm in which there flows the greatest quantity of water ($m^3/sec.$) at low water, as existing at the time when it is established.

2. The provisions of paragraph 1 shall not apply to the national frontier in the River Oder. The position of the Oder frontier line shall be determined by a line shown in the maps in the collection of frontier line documents begun in 1927.

Article 2.

1. The national frontier fixed in accordance with paragraph 1 of Article 1, as shown in the maps in the collection of frontier line documents begun in 1927, follows the gradual natural changes in the waterway (principal arm) — movable frontier. In the case of sudden considerable changes in the course of the waterway or of changes coming about through regulation of the waterway or of measures taken without previous agreement, the median line of the waterway (principal arm) which constituted the frontier line before the change shall continue to be the national frontier pending the conclusion of an agreement between the two States.

2. The national frontier in the Oder is permanently fixed by the line mentioned in the second sentence of paragraph 2 of Article 1; it shall therefore not be modified through changes in the course of the waterway (immovable frontier).

Article 3.

Should the movable frontier line undergo hereafter any changes at the points at which the boundary passes over on to dry land, such points shall be fixed in each case by agreement between the competent authorities designated by both Parties. In these cases, care shall be taken to make the national frontier coincide with the boundaries of properties, to avoid any considerable territorial changes and to safeguard the existing interests connected with the regime of waterways.

B. EXCHANGE OF TERRITORIES.

Article 4.

In consideration of the movable character of the national frontier on waterways and with a view to obtaining a more practical frontier line on the Prussian sector of the national boundary, the Contracting Parties agree to the following exchange of territories :

The land tenure registers and cadastral surveys, together with their annexes (deeds, documents and maps), relating to the lands to be exchanged (Article 4) shall be handed over in the original or, if that is not possible, in certified copies, by the courts and survey authorities which have hitherto kept them to the courts or survey authorities of the other State. The courts and survey authorities concerned shall hand over such documents directly to each other. Any difficulties that may arise in that connection or in the course of official business between the said authorities shall be settled by direct negotiation between the central authorities concerned.
